

Ronald L. Taylor, 66

Ronald L. Taylor, 66, of Milton, died Friday, February 12, 2010 at Mercy Hospital, Janesville.

Ron was born October 23, 1943 in Princeton, IL, the son of Elmer L. Taylor and Helen M. (DePauw) Taylor. He graduated from high school in Waukegan, IL in 1961 and later joined the United States Marine Corp. he served on the Waukegan police force from 1964 to 1967. Recently he was employed by Fahey Electrical in Brooklyn, WI, where he worked as an electrician. He was a long-standing member of the Rock River Threshere.

Ron is survived by his two children: Ronald R. Taylor of Burlington and Janet (Scott) Smith of Antioch, IL; two grandchildren, Lauren and Stephen Smith; a brother, James E. Barb) Taylor of Zion, IL; three sisters: Kay M. Taylor of Gurnee, IL, Sally (Rick) Brewington of Waukegan, IL and Patti (Bill) Thomas of Janesville; one niece Amanda (Thomas) McKay; and two nephews: Scott (Brandy) Taylor and Kevin (Lori) Taylor. He was preceded in death by his parents.

Ron donated his remains to the University of Wisconsin. It was his wish not to have a public memorial service.